

Weekly Update

Cappy Pugliese

3/31 - 4/04

Last week (3/24 - 3/28)

- got sick, did not get much done
- it's been a while since I've done a weekly update since I've been swamped with a lot of work lately and haven't been able to keep up

This week (3/31 - 4/4)

Monday 3/31

- started working on my group project for Jill's genomics class
- sent a bunch of class emails
- did collections tour training for bio 1108
- very briefly checked in on my xanadu lab directory since it has been a while
 - slightly reorganized some stuff to make things easier to navigate

Tuesday 4/1

- individual lab meeting:
 - talked about making a script going from bams to gvcf
 - talked about using GATK
 - talked about advisor committee meeting and date planning
- started making a script to get gvcfs
 - tested it out with just one sample and it ran
 - next step is to make a script to run multiple samples

- sent scheduling email out to pick advisor committee meeting time

Wednesday 4/2

- did a lot of prep to prepare myself for running the collections tours
- also a lot of preparing for class that day

Thursday 4/3 & Friday 4/4

- successfully did the collections tours with my classes
- spent a lot of time working on the EEB 5300 lab for that week
